

VCU Health Pharmacy Resident Profiles 2026 - 2027

PGY1 Pharmacy Residents

Maegan Casimir, PharmD

Hometown

Falling Waters, WV

Undergraduate

West Virginia University

Pharmacy School

West Virginia University School of Pharmacy

Interests

Psychiatry

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Trying new restaurants and local coffee shops, spending time with my two mini schnauzers and husband, playing card games, listening to The Weeknd

Why VCU Health

VCU Health was my first residency interview, and I found myself drawn back to VCU after other interviews. I was drawn to the unique clinical opportunities, pharmacy-friendly environment, strong support from preceptors, co-residents, and RPDs. VCU's close connection with the School of Pharmacy also offers strong teaching and interprofessional education opportunities, which were especially appealing to me. I knew VCU would help me develop my clinical voice, build a strong PGY-1 foundation, and prepare for future PGY-2 training while allowing me to practice at the top of my license.

Rachel Hall, PharmD

Hometown

Columbia, MD

Undergraduate

University of Maryland, Baltimore County

Pharmacy School

University of Maryland School of Pharmacy

Interests

Pediatrics - Neonatal ICU and Pediatric ICU

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Cooking, baking, reading, doing anything outside (long walks, hiking, golfing, snowboarding)

Why VCU Health

VCU Health stands out to me because of the opportunities for growth it offers as a resident. I am interested in pediatrics and the variety of pediatric electives allows me to tailor my training to my interests and career goals. Lastly, at my interview, it was clear to me that VCU has cultivated a positive and caring environment for both their patients and healthcare workers and residents. I knew that this was a place I would not only be successful at, but a place where I would feel valued and cared for!

VCU Health Pharmacy Resident Profiles 2026 - 2027

Jenna Hickman, PharmD

Hometown

Stilwell, KS

Undergraduate

University of Kansas

Pharmacy School

University of Kansas School of Pharmacy

Interests

Ambulatory Care

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Baking, reading, exercising, trying new restaurants, going on walks by the river, water-coloring

Why VCU Health

VCU Health initially stood out to me during the interview process when I was speaking with the Residency Program Director and Coordinator. They seemed to care about me as an individual and were invested in my growth and future as a pharmacist. I also liked all the opportunities the health system offered to explore different clinical areas and expand my knowledge so I can develop into a well-rounded clinical pharmacist.

Ellie Lancaster, PharmD

Hometown

Powhatan, VA

Undergraduate

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Pharmacy School

Campbell University College of Pharmacy & Health Sciences

Interests

Pediatrics

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Running, hiking, UT sports (Go Vols!), painting/crafting

Why VCU Health

VCU Health stood out to me because of the exceptional variety of clinical experiences offered and the flexibility to tailor my residency to my clinical interests. After my interview, I was confident VCU Health would challenge me to grow both clinically and professionally while preparing me for my next steps as a clinical pharmacist. As residents, we are constantly offered opportunities to practice at the top of our license and provide meaningful patient-centered care.

VCU Health Pharmacy Resident Profiles 2026 - 2027

Gabriela “Gabi” Rajic, PharmD

Hometown

Urbana, Illinois

Undergraduate

Indiana University

Pharmacy School

Midwestern University College of Pharmacy, Glendale

Interests

Oncology

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Hiking, trying new restaurants, yoga, spending time with my dog

Why VCU Health

I chose VCU Health for my PGY1 residency because of the many opportunities for growth within a supportive and collaborative pharmacy department. I was especially drawn to the people, the variety of unique and challenging rotations, and the opportunity to train at a rigorous academic medical center where pharmacists are actively involved on rounds and work closely with interdisciplinary teams. VCU Health's strong emphasis on teaching and professional development also aligned with my goal of incorporating education into my future career.

Grace Thompson, PharmD

Hometown

Charleston, South Carolina

Undergraduate

University of South Carolina, Columbia

Pharmacy School

University of South Carolina College of Pharmacy

Interests

Pediatrics - Pediatric Infectious Disease & Emergency Medicine

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Baking, crocheting, thrifting (I have a side business selling vintage clothing!), hanging out with my coresidents!

Why VCU Health

VCU Health was one of my first interviews, and I found myself looking back on my interview here throughout the interview season. I felt that each person who interviewed me genuinely cared about my experiences as a person, rather than if I simply checked all their boxes as a candidate. I also loved how receptive they were to tailoring my PGY1 year to my interests. I knew that I would be supported throughout every step of PGY1 training.

VCU Health Pharmacy Resident Profiles 2026 - 2027

Health-System Pharmacy Administration

Eduvar Adames Gonzalez, PharmD

Hometown

Hatillo, Puerto Rico

Undergraduate

University of Puerto Rico

Pharmacy School

University of Tennessee Health Sciences College of Pharmacy

Interests

Pharmacy Operations, Supply Chain, Medication Safety

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Cycling, surfing

Why VCU Health

VCU Health stood out to me because of its strong and well-established PGY1/PGY2 HSPAL residency program, along with the wide range of clinical and administrative practice experiences available across the health system. As a large academic medical center, VCU provides exposure to complex patient care, multidisciplinary teams, research, education, and health-system operations. Beyond the opportunities the program provides, the people and culture made VCU Health feel welcoming from day one and gave me a strong sense of belonging within the pharmacy team.

VCU Health Pharmacy Resident Profiles 2026 - 2027

PGY2 Pharmacy Residents

Health-System Pharmacy Administration

Josephine “Josie” Gresko, PharmD

Hometown

Fredericksburg, Virginia

Undergraduate

College of William & Mary

Pharmacy School

Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) School of Pharmacy

PGY1 Residency

VCU Health

Interests

Medication Safety, Regulatory and Compliance, Policy, Academia

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Hiking, pickleball, traveling, reading, K-Dramas

Why VCU Health

I admire how the VCU Health PGY1/PGY2 HSPAL program strives to create well-rounded pharmacy leaders with strong clinical backgrounds. Furthermore, learning opportunities are flexible, and many preceptors will tailor experiences to individual interests. While enrolled as a pharmacy student and now as a resident, I have grown to admire VCU's dedication to interprofessional collaboration, patient safety, and education.

Ambulatory Care

Jalyn Martin, PharmD

Hometown

Snellville, GA

Undergraduate

Georgia State University

Pharmacy School

University of Georgia College of Pharmacy

PGY1 Residency

Emory University Hospital Midtown

Interests

Academia, Neurology, Anticoagulation, Specialty Pharmacy

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Legos, trying new vegan places, hiking

Why VCU Health

I chose VCU Health because I was confident I would be provided with opportunities to build a strong foundation in primary care while exploring specialty clinics to become a well-rounded ambulatory care pharmacist. VCU offers a great variety of ambulatory clinic rotations with amazing, supportive preceptors in each of the different clinics that care about your growth as a pharmacist and person.

VCU Health Pharmacy Resident Profiles 2026 - 2027

Critical Care

Abigail Christman, PharmD

Hometown

Syracuse, New York

Undergraduate

University of Pittsburgh

Pharmacy School

University of Pittsburgh School of Pharmacy

PGY1 Residency

VCU Health

Interests

Cardiac ICU, Medical ICU, Emergency Medicine

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Reading, spending time outside (walking/hiking), exploring new places, trying new food, and listening to music

Why VCU Health

VCU Health provided everything that I wanted in a residency - a large academic medical center with a level 1 trauma center with various ICUs. The preceptors truly want you to succeed both personally and professionally. I knew during my PGY-1 that I would be able to explore all of my critical care interests and that the preceptors would be flexible with making sure I was able to complete projects and presentations in my interest areas. I also get to teach pharmacy students both in lectures and on rotation which is something I was looking for as teaching is something that I am passionate about.

Sydney Jablonski, PharmD

Hometown

Charleston, South Carolina

Undergraduate

Clemson University

Pharmacy School

Medical University of South Carolina College of Pharmacy

PGY1 Residency

VCU Health

Interests

Cardiology, Medical ICU

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Reading, exercising, thrifting, hanging out with my dog, and being outside!

Why VCU Health

VCU provides countless opportunities to challenge you to become a strong and well-rounded pharmacist. Preceptors truly care about you and foster your growth with your interests in mind. Pharmacists are a vital part of the interprofessional team at VCU Health, and our contribution is very wanted and valued.

VCU Health Pharmacy Resident Profiles 2026 - 2027

Internal Medicine

Stephen Glass, PharmD

Hometown

Norfolk, Virginia

Undergraduate

Old Dominion University

Pharmacy School

Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) School of Pharmacy

PGY1 Residency

Baton Rouge General

Interests

Cardiology, Internal Medicine

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Hanging with my friends, family, significant other and my cat Winston

Why VCU Health

What drew me to VCU is the opportunity to refine my clinical skills and to grow as a pharmacist. I knew VCU had the resources and the preceptors that will both challenge me but help me grow as a second-year resident into a future clinical pharmacist.

Vivian Do, PharmD

Hometown

Chesterfield, Virginia

Undergraduate

Virginia Commonwealth University

Pharmacy School

Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) School of Pharmacy

PGY1 Residency

Chippenham and Johnston-Willis Medical Center

Interests

Internal Medicine, Academia, Transitions of Care

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Crochet, scrapbooking, eating sweets, watching Korean dramas!

Why VCU Health

I was drawn to VCU Health after speaking with preceptors who I also knew as professors during my pharmacy school days. I knew these preceptors and others at VCU would provide me with the necessary support and encouragement I would need to further my skills as a confident and independent pharmacist. VCU Health as a whole provides a great environment for all health professionals to collaboratively learn and improve their practice.

VCU Health Pharmacy Resident Profiles 2026 - 2027

Oncology

Madhura Pradhan, PharmD

Hometown

Eden Prairie, Minnesota

Undergraduate

University of Minnesota

Pharmacy School

University of North Carolina Chapel Hill Eshelman School of Pharmacy

PGY1 Residency

VCU Health

Interests

Oncology

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Exploring coffee shops and restaurants, hanging with my co-residents, traveling, exercising, meal-prepping, listening to Jason Derulo

Why VCU Health

VCU Medical Center is a large, academic center and represents where I want to practice in the future. The PGY2 Oncology program is exceptional - emphasizing continued growth and striving for excellence every day. With the plethora of inpatient & outpatient rotations, longitudinal fellow's clinic, and opportunities to enhance my teaching and precepting skills, the health system offers residents to build a strong clinical foundation in a variety of areas. Based on my PGY1 residency training experience here and learning from preceptors early in PGY1, early committing to VCU Health's Oncology program was a no-brainer!

Robyn Turner, PharmD

Hometown

Ramona, California

Undergraduate

California State University, Chico

Pharmacy School

University of New Mexico College of Pharmacy

PGY1 Residency

VCU Health

Interests

Hematology/Oncology

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Traveling, exploring restaurants/breweries, going to concerts (specifically Pitbull), spending time with my family, partner, and friends

Why VCU Health

I was drawn to VCU Health because of its reputation as a leading academic medical center with numerous opportunities in a wide variety of specialties. The strong presence of pharmacists on the interdisciplinary team and the institution's commitment to patient-centered care stood out to me as well. I was confident that I would be supported in becoming a competent and well-rounded pharmacist.

VCU Health Pharmacy Resident Profiles 2026 - 2027

Psychiatry

Mollie Cupp, PharmD

Hometown

Paris, Missouri

Undergraduate

University of Missouri, Kansas City

Pharmacy School

University of Missouri-Kansas City School of Pharmacy

PGY1 Residency

Medical University of South Carolina

Interests

Adult General/Medical Psychiatry, Serious Mental Illness

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Hanging out with my dog, reading, trying new coffee shops/restaurants/breweries

Why VCU Health

I chose VCU Health because of its large academic medical center environment, which offers exposure to a diverse and complex patient population. The wide variety of psychiatric elective rotations allows me to individualize my training and explore my clinical interests while developing as a well-rounded psychiatric pharmacist. Additionally, the knowledgeable and supportive preceptors at VCU are dedicated to resident growth, providing exceptional mentorship and opportunities for professional development.

Solid Organ Transplant

Harry "Grant" Woodard, PharmD

Hometown

Concord, North Carolina

Undergraduate

St. Louis College of Pharmacy

Pharmacy School

St. Louis College of Pharmacy

PGY1 Residency

VCU Health

Interests

Solid Organ Transplant

Interests Outside Pharmacy

Soccer, golf, lifting, running (all sports and outdoors!)

Why VCU Health

After my interview I instantly knew that VCU Health would push me to grow both personally and professionally. VCU Health provides high-level clinical rotations, has an excellent relationship with the VCU School of Pharmacy, and most importantly has excellent clinical preceptors who care about resident growth and development.

